As you locate available data to inform your exploration of disparities in school discipline, you will want to ensure you have exhausted all available sources of existing data that may support your effort before moving on to other sources. This flow chart will help you ensure that you consider all potential sources of data prior to beginning your root cause analysis.

Do we have all the data we need?

No

Is additional data available elsewhere in the school?

Yes

Seek access to appropriate school sources for required data.

No

Consider other sources.

Unknown

Where might additional expertise be found?

Yes

Seek access to appropriate community sources for required data.

No

Consider other sources.

Unknown

Who is the primary contact for each source?

Is additional data available elsewhere in the community?

Yes

Proceed using available data.

No

Consider other sources.

Unknown

Where might additional expertise be found?

Who is the primary contact for each source?